TURTLE 800 YEARS OLD

Oldest Resident in New York Will Be Given Home in Central Park.

New York, Aug. 10.—The oldest resident of New York, if not of the whole country, has just taken up his abode here. His age is given as 800 years and his residence will be in the Central Park Zoo. He is known as the "Old Man of the Pacific," and is an enormous deep sea turtle. His age was figured out from the sixteen squares marked on the top of his shell. Each square was said to represent fifty years. The turtle weighs 464 pounds, and is 6 feet 8 inches long from tip of nose to tip of tail. He was brought here from the California coast on a tramp steamer and sold to a man who thought it a prize for Central Park. Two policemen and two managerial keepers got upon the turtle's back when it arrived at the menagerie and it carried them several yards. A policeman poked him with his club and he bit the club in two. His mouth is six inches across.

DECAY OF SUFFRAGETTISM

(THE LITERARY DIGEST)

THE NIGHTMARE of suffragettism is believed by many to be nearing its end in England. Votes for men have been won by violence more often than not, but votes for women seem to require, appropriately perhaps, a sweet reasonableness in being winsome, and succeeded better where milder methods were used. The London Daily Mail is almost exultant. "Only Forty wild women left!" it explains, speaking of "the suffragette collapse," for a fair estimate of "the number of fanatics of the incendiary and dangerous kind" is officially estimated to be even "fewer than two score." The following figures are then given:

"The army of women who formerly broke windows and befouled letter-boxes has disappeared. Militancy is now confined to the leaders and the few wild women referred to above. Fifteen months ago there were 202 suffragettes under sentence for militant outrages; to-day there are only 21, including 12 who are temporarily released under the Cat and Mouse Act. Of the nine in prison, 7 are taking their food regularly. The 21 comprise the leaders and a few half-mad fanatical women who would commit any outrage. A year ago the staff at the central offices of the Women's Social and Political Union numbered more than 200. Now fewer than 50 are engaged."

The sinews of war, too, have failed. Money, fine clothes, and social recognition are no longer lavished on those whose only apparent merit lay in their fearless and persistent utterance of the war-cry, "Votes for Women."

"Subscriptions generally have fallen off, and the union now has to rely on a few wealthy subscribers who come to give it aid in difficulties. The expense of maintaining the organization in full working order is over 500 lbs a week. Above all, the flow of subscriptions from erstwhile sympathizers up and down the country has ceased, largely because of Mr. Hobkin's warning that subscribers might be liable to prosecution, and because of the fear that the funds of the union might be liable for damage committed by militants. Hence the present desperate appeals for money. The police authorities do not believe that any extensive suffragette 'arsenals' now exist in London, or that there is any wide-spread suffragette plot against public safety."

Mr. Asquith's ministry have, for the present Parliament, at least, washed their hands of the movement, and the same paper informs us:

"In the House of Commons, writes our parliamentary correspondent, supporters of women's suffrage believe that the issue is killed 'time of the present Parliament, while the opponents think it cannot be raised again with any remote hope of success for a long period of years."

"A remarkable change has been made apparent lately in the temper of local Liberal organizations in the matter. No resolutions in favor of woman-suffrage are now being sent up from these to the National Liberal Federation, whereas formerly there were many. A number of local women's Liberal associations have also changed the corporate opinions from pro to anti on the issue."

"Among prominent Liberals throughout the Kingdom, a careful and extensive inquiry has been conducted as to their views, and the returns show that there is a majority of two to one against granting the vote to women. In face of this change of feeling, Liberal members who were once supporters of the movement are now apathetic."

This, however, by no means signifies that the movement for women's suffrage is dead in England. Quite the contrary is the case. The London Daily Chronicle announces "the formation of the first Liberal organization founded solely for the extension of the suffrage to women."

"Henceforth these workers, and those Liberal women throughout the country who agree with them, will refuse to regard a candidate as a Liberal candidate who is opposed to women enjoying political freedom, and will not assist his return to Parliament."

"The new movement will receive a large measure of support, and is calculated to help candidates who have an 'open mind' on 'votes for women' to come to a definite decision."

U. S. TAKES RIFLE RANGE.

Will Remain In Control Of Camp Perry
After International Matches.

Camp Perry, Ohio, Aug. 10.—The United States Government took possession of the Camp Perry rifle range today to remain in full control until the international matches are concluded on September 9. Brig. Gen. R. K. Evans, Department of the Gulf, arrived this morning from Atlanta, and his staff reported to him during the afternoon. ## "QUO VADIS"

(WHITHER GOEST THOU)

This Stupendous Spectacle will be
Picture Show

THURSDAY NIGHT AUGUST 21ST

"Quo Vadis" is a splendid 3 reel feature faithfully portraying with Historical accuracy the interesting scenes transpiring from the crucifixion of Christ to the death of Nero.

This three reel feature gives all the incidents leading up to, including and immediately following the crucifixion. And the most heartrending story comes after that. It is the story of the divine tragedy of the Christian Martyrs, men women and children who gave up their lives, were tortured and thrown to wild beasts in the Arena to make a Roman holiday. Do you know the story of Christianity? It is written in the blood of these brave martyrs on the white pages of that imperishable book, the human memory. It needs no historian for it is immortal. This story is reproduced not in words, nor an epic poem, but it is so graphically brought to your eye that you are lost to self and transported to Imperial Rome where these horrors were enacted over two thousand years ago. Whether you are religious or not you will lose nothing by witnessing the worlds greatest tragedy and the most sublime sacrifice human beings ever made. Remember this splendid feature will be given at the Idle Hour on Thursday night Aug. 21st in addition to the regular show and the prices for that night only are 10 and 20 cents.

Current Fiction?

If an invalid were told to go to work for his health he would probably think his advisor was non compos mentis, yet one of the largest automobile companies has a department in which it claims its most anemic employees rapidly become healthy and strong. The work which effects the marvelous cures consists in handling the magnets charged for use in the magnetos. All day long men in this shop take U-shaped pieces of steel and place them against a highly charged magnet, lay them down and pick up others. Men who looked as though they were in the last stage of tuberculosis, after a few months of absorbing electricity from the magnets, have, according to the automobile people, taken on pounds of flesh and become so healthy that they hate to work.

Least the effort be made it might be well to state that it would be useless for brokers to try this treatment for their anemic pocketbooks.

Dickens Most Widely Known.

If it be true to say of any author that everybody has read him, that author is Dickens. He is more of a national institution today than Shakespeare, whose works, praised and perverted, explained and darkened, by an amazing mass of commentators today, are not, in our experience, really known to the average reader.—London Athenaeum.

Day Is Advertised Better Than Night

By HOLLAND

THE day is a more popular time than night. Most of the work of the world is done while the sun shines, and only that which can't be done at other hours is performed while darkness reigns.

The day is the most popular and the more fully utilized because it is better advertised. The sun is the great publicity agent. It forces all to see and to remember. If it were possible to advertise any product of man as well as sunlight is advertised that particular product would drive all competitors from the field. Any breakfast food, baking powder, brand of shoes, style of furniture, cough drop, patent medicine, or what not, if it were only as well known as day light, would have a monopoly of trade that would defy all rivals.

Such successful advertising of the works of man is not possible, but it can be followed at a distance. Successful manufacturers and merchants do follow it, and as a result the best advertised articles are the most widely sold. This is due to the fact that advertising makes the name of an article known, and it also insures its quality. Goods must be of superior merit to make it profitable to advertise them.

BABY'S HANDS TIED.

Mother Tells How Saxo Salve Conquered Eczema.

"Last fall we noticed small rough and red spots coming on baby's hands. The skin was very dry and she kept scratching them until they would bleed. We lost a good deal of sleep with her. Finally we took her to the doctor and he treated her several weeks, but it kept spreading until we had to keep her little hands tied and dressed and bandaged them several times a day they were so sore, and we used everything we could hear of for eczema. Finally our druggist told us about Saxo Salve. We tried it and one and a half tubs has entirely cured her. Her little hands are smooth and not even scarred. Mrs. Mort Stephenson, Lebanon, Ind."

You cannot do better than to try Saxo Salve for eczema, or any skin affection—we cheerfully give back your money if it does not help you.

Saxo Salve is made by Dr. J. C. Rogers, of New York City. It is a pure, non-poisonous, blood purifying ointment.

More Caution Needed.

An exchange tells the story of a little boy whose mother decided that he was old enough to do without her sitting by him when he was put to bed until he fell asleep. So when one night she kissed the five-year-old and told him he was a big boy and brave enough to go to sleep without his mamma and in the dark, too, he pondered the situation a moment and then said: "Well, wait a minute. I've got to say my prayers again carefuler."—Suburban Life.

"Method in Madness."

"Why do you always insist on talking about the weather to your barber?" "You wouldn't have me talk about anything so exciting as politics to a man who is handling a razor, would you?"

Self-Knowledge.

Suffer me to recommend to you one of the most useful lessons of life, the knowledge and study of yourself. There you run the greatest hazard of being deceived. Self-love and partiality cast a mist before the eyes, and there is no knowledge so hard to be acquired, nor of more benefit when once thoroughly understood.—Abigail Adams to Her Son.

"The Greatest Kidney Remedy on Earth" Says a Grateful Woman

I want to tell you how much good your Swains-Root did me. About four years ago, I suffered from what the doctors called fistula and for two years of that time I endured what no tongue can tell. I also had inflammation of the bladder and I tried doctor's medicines without receiving any help. Someone told me about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root.

After giving it a thorough trial, I received relief, so I kept on using it and today I am a strong and well woman. If I ever feel badly or out of sorts, I take Swamp-Root and it always straightens me out. I honestly believe that this medicine would cure all troubles you recommend it for and it is a pleasure to me to send my testimony and photograph to you. I think Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is one of the greatest medicines on earth.

Respectfully yours,
MRS. JOHN BAILEY,

ELECTRICAL GOODS

Are now on display at the Idle Hour Picture show and I will sell them at a reasonable price. These Irons, Toasters and such like use very little current, not more than a 16 candle power light and they save a great deal of time and worry. When you have one or two garments to iron, or wish to have toast and eggs for lunch, these electrical appliances save building afire in the stove and do away with the extreme heat of a cooking stove which is almost unbearable in hot weather. Any one who is interested may have the electric irons demonstrated in their home.

The Little Rifles—Big in Quality

YOU are going to buy a .22 calibre rifle, single shot or repeater—you'll find that many well known crack shots started with a Remington-UMC .22. Their advice now would be "By all means, get a Remington-UMC" because they know that there is a tendency in some quarters to look upon these models as only "a small boy's rifle" and to cheapen them so that they can be sold at a price.

You have just as much right to expect full shooting value in your .22 calibre rifle as in your $75 big game rifle. You want the Remington-UMC single shot at from $3 to $6. 22, 25-10 or 32 calibre, made by the same people who make the famous Remington-UMC Autoloading Rifle.

Or, if you prefer the repeating rifle, the Remington-UMC slide action .22 repeater with its easy take-down and special safety features, shooting 7 1/2, 22 long or 22 long rifle cartridges, at $10 and up, is your rifle. Sold by live dealers of this community—the most popular small calibre rifles in America.
